DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in reply to an amendment filed on May 10, 2007. Claims 1-61 are pending.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-61 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-11 and 22-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.
4. Claims 22 and 30 are directed to a secure registration system. The examiner respectfully asserts that the claimed subject matter does not fall within the statutory classes listed in 35 USC 101. Claims 22 and 30 recite means for function which is defined in the specification to be implemented through software [see specification paragraphs 1029 and 1031] and therefore, the recited claims are directed to functional descriptive material. Generally functional descriptive material (i.e., software) is statutory when it is stored on a tangible computer readable storage medium. Claims 22 and 30 are rejected as being directed to a functional descriptive material. Claims 23-29 and 31-39 depend from claims 22 and 30, and therefore are rejected under the same rationale.

Art Unit: 2135

5. Claims 1-11, 22-29 and 41-51 are directed to a secure registration system. The examiner respectfully asserts that the claimed subject matter does not fall within the statutory classes listed in 35 USC 101. Examiner respectfully asserts that the act of generating a registration key as recited in independent claims 11, 22 and 41 is not a tangible result. Claims 11, 22 and 41 are rejected as being directed to an abstract idea (i.e., producing non-tangible result) [tangible requirement does require that the claim must recite more than a 101 judicial exception, in that the process claim must set forth a practical application of that 101 judicial exception to produce a real-world result, Benson, 409 U.S. at 71-72, 175 USPQ at 676-77]. Claims 12-21, 23-29 and 42-51 depend from claims 1, 22 and 41, and are rejected under the same rationale.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Faccin et al. US 6,879,690 B2 (hereinafter Faccin).

Art Unit: 2135

8. As per claims 1, 22 and 41, Faccin teaches a method of obtaining secure registration by a memory module (UICC) in a multicast-broadcast-multimedia system (MBMS), the method comprising:

receiving a random number (RANDTSK, column 9, lines 63-67 and column 10, lines 11-14);

generating a radio access network key (RAK) (i.e., generating new TSK value) as a function of the random number (i.e., RANDTSK) and a key selected from the group consisting of a public land mobile network key (PK) and a broadcast access key (BAK) (i.e., long-term key) [column 10, lines 45-47 and figure 5]; and generating a temporary registration key (RGK) (i.e., AUTHU) as a function of the RAK [column 10, lines 63 -67].

9. As per claims 12, 31 and 52, Faccin teaches a method of obtaining secure registration by a mobile station in a multicast-broadcast-multimedia system (MBMS), the method comprising:

receiving a random number from a radio access network (i.e., AAAv receiving RANDTSK, column 10, lines 11-13);

transmitting the random number to a memory module (UICC) (i.e., transmitting RANDTSK to mobile node/device, column 10, lines 11-14) ; and receiving from the UICC a temporary registration key (RGK) based on the random number [column 10, lines 45-60].

10. As per claims 2, 23 and 42, Faccin further teaches the method further comprising transmitting the RGK to a mobile telephone [column 10, lines 60-67].

11. As per claims 3-5, 24-26 and 43-45, Faccin further teaches the method further comprising receiving a provisioning message from a broadcast-multicast service center [figure 4 and 5].

12. As per claims 6, 7, 27, 28, 46 and 47, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the RGK is a function of the RAK, a service identification number and a user identification number [column 10, lines 60-67 and figures 4 & 5].

13. As per claims 8, 18, 37, 48 and 58, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the UICC comprises a subscriber identity module (SIM) in a GSM system [figures 1 and 2].

14. As per claims 9, 19, 38, 49 and 59, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the UICC comprises a RUIM in CDMA system [figures 1 and 2].

15. As per claims 10, 11, 20, 21, 29, 30, 39, 40, 50, 51, 60 and 61, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the PK/BAK is provisioned by using a public key [column 10, lines 25-67].

16. As per claims 13, 32 and 53, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the RGK is a function of a radio access network key (RAK) which is a function of the random number and a key selected from the group consisting of a public land mobile network key (PK) and a broadcast access key (BAK) [column 10, lines 45-47 and figure 5].

Art Unit: 2135

17. As per claims 14, 15, 33, 34, 54 and 55, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the PK is extracted from a provisioning message received from a broadcast-multicast service center [figure 4 and 5].

18. As per claims 16, 17, 35, 36, 56 and 57, Faccin further teaches the method wherein the RGK is a function of the RAK, a service identification number and a user identification number [column 10, lines 60-67 and figures 4 & 5].
